The Library Page

Merry Christmas!

From all the Library Staff

Our December page is all about apps for UpToDate and Clinical Key - and as a little seasonal present, we would like to remind you that they are available free!

UpToDate® UpToDate is a point-of-care tool which summarises the evidence on a condition, and gives links to other sources of information.

To get the app, open UpToDate and click on Register to create your personal account. You can now go to your usual app store and download UpToDate free of charge.

ClinicalKey® Clinical Key offers a broad range of evidence-based information. It includes 600 Elsevier e-journals and 1100 Elsevier e-books, as well as links to other sources including guidelines, images and videos. To download the app, go to your usual store and search for "ClinicalKey" and then install the app. Log in with your Clinical Key username and password.

You can find UpToDate and Clinical Key at work on the Clinical Portal, or at home with an Athens account. For departmental training sessions, please contact Rosemary.

If you need help or advice, please contact:
